

Guild School Scholarship Program

Held at the Maine Maritime Academy
Castine, Maine
for one week
each year in June

We are pleased that you have expressed an interest in attending The Guild School by applying for one of our scholarships. The Guild School, sponsored by the International Guild of Miniature Artisans (IGMA), established its Scholarship Program in 1985 with the first scholarship recipients attending the 1986 Guild School. Each year since then, scholarships have been awarded to deserving miniaturists.

A full-tuition scholarship is currently valued at $1600 and pays for 36 hours of instruction plus room and board for the entire school week. Recipients must provide their own transportation and assume any other expenses incurred such as materials fees for classes (typically $20-$300) and evening seminars (typically 0-$50).

The source of funding for the Scholarship Program comes from various fundraising efforts held during the school week. The major event is the Live Auction.

Needless to say, the scholarship provides a wonderful opportunity for individuals who appreciate, and wish to learn more about creating, fine miniatures. Through the Scholarship Program, The Guild School can quite possibly become a reality for you...a friend...or a relative.

SOME THINGS YOU SHOULD KNOW:

Applicants must be at least 18 years of age. Applicants need not be members of IGMA.

Applicants may not be an IGMA board member or employee of the Guild.

Applicants do not have to live in the U.S., nor be citizens of the U.S.

The International Guild of Miniature Artisans is committed to the perpetuation and improvement of miniatures. Scholarships are primarily intended to make the Guild School experience available to students who might otherwise not be able to attend due to financial constraints. Scholarship applicants are evaluated on how their attendance at the Guild School could potentially contribute to:

- 1) the furtherance of miniatures as an art form and the raising of standards (including, but not limited to - adherence to scale and proportions, historical accuracy, etc.) in the creation of miniatures;
- 2) the quality of the applicant's work and the degree to which the curriculum offered by the school would expand or enhance the applicant's skills and areas of interest;
- 3) the dissemination of knowledge, enthusiasm, and skills to miniaturists within a local context, as well as around the world, by teaching, writing, exhibiting or other forms of sharing, both past and in the future;
- 4) the degree to which the applicant needs financial assistance for school expenses and how important attending the Guild School would be to them (fiscal priorities).

Applications in a given year will be ranked against the above criteria by the Scholarship Committee. The Guild School Director will determine the number of scholarships that can be supported in that year. That number of the top ranked applicants will be awarded a scholarship.

Now accepting Application, Photos, and Recommendation Form via email

Each year during June, the International Guild of Miniature Artisans assembles a faculty of unusually talented master teachers and a group of enthusiastic (adult) students from all over the world, for a week-long miniature art school, held at the Maine Maritime Academy in Castine, Maine. It has become known as the Guild School. The Guild School established a Scholarship Program in 1985, and since then, has awarded several full-tuition scholarships yearly to miniaturists who might otherwise not be able to attend the school. It is a wonderful opportunity for miniaturists who appreciate fine miniatures and wish to learn more about creating them.

When applying for a scholarship each applicant must include a reference in order to be considered for this award. It would be helpful to the Scholarship Committee if you would answer the following questions. We certainly appreciate your time and thoughtfulness.

The scholarship applicant will not be considered for a scholarship without this completed recommendation form.
